Dear HBS alumni working in the healthcare industry -

Are you willing to share your healthcare industry expertise?
Would you like to help a current HBS student?

HBS is seeking alumni working in all sectors of the healthcare industry to mentor current MBA students. Last year over 100 alumni-student mentor matches were made between alumni working in healthcare and 1st and 2nd year HBS students.

Survey results indicate mentoring is an extremely rewarding experience for alumni and is highly valued by students.

The mentor program requires a minimal time commitment on your part-email or phone conversations just a few times a year.

Please volunteer. To sign up to be a mentor, please complete this brief survey by September 16th. The match won't take place until October; and we will be in touch again then. For questions, please contact Cara Sterling, HBS Healthcare Initiative Director.

Thank you,

Richard Hamermesh, HBS Healthcare Initiative Faculty Co-Chair
Robert Huckman, HBS Healthcare Initiative Faculty Co-Chair
Cara Sterling, Director, HBS Healthcare Initiative Director
Jon Puz, VP of Membership, HBS Health Industry Alumni Association

---

HBS | HEALTHCARE INITIATIVE

The Healthcare Initiative at Harvard Business School is a multidisciplinary program dedicated to innovative thinking in the healthcare industry. Launched in 2005, the Initiative brings together the extensive research, thought leadership, and interest in the business and management of healthcare that exists at HBS.

To unsubscribe, please send an email to healthcare_initiative@hbs.edu, with "UNSUBSCRIBE" in the subject line.

For more information on the Healthcare Initiative, see our web site: www.hbs.edu/healthcare.