HARVARD BUSINESS SCHOOL
1,000,000 minutes. That’s about the total amount of time graduates of the Harvard Business School have spent with us—and with each other. In this two-year time period, students in our MBA program will have exchanged more than 200 million messages, stories, perspectives, arguments and “aha” moments. Indeed, the foundation of HBS is built upon a truly diverse student body from around the world, but it’s the richness of thinking shared in one million minutes here that will go on to change the world outside our walls.
