That’s how many students enrolled in core social enterprise electives last year. And, at HBS, opportunities for involvement in social enterprise span beyond the classroom to field-based learning experiences, career development programs, and student-run clubs and events. Students with backgrounds in all sectors are encouraged to integrate social enterprise skills into their academic, professional, and personal lives, and many go on to become the entrepreneurs and leaders working to solve the world’s most pressing problems. Our accomplished alumni include Tom Tierney (MBA ’80) of The Bridgespan Group, Andrea Silbert (MBA ’91) of EOS Foundation, Rob Zeaske (MBA ’02) of Second Harvest Heartland, and Abigail Falik (MBA ’08) of Global Citizen Year. Learn more at www.hbs.edu/socialenterprise.