BORIS VALLEE |
ASSISTANT PROFESSOR
FINANCE UNIT

To prevent real or apparent conflicts of interest from influencing faculty research, teaching, or scholarship, Harvard Business School (HBS) requires its faculty members to disclose all paid activities with outside organizations (i.e., organizations not associated with Harvard University or HBS), sources of incremental compensation from Harvard University, and important unpaid activities during the previous five years.

- Paid Teaching and Speaking

- I have done executive teaching for a HBS Custom Program in 2017. I have received financial compensation for my services
- I have done executive teaching for the 21st Century Institute in 2016. I have received financial compensation for my services
- I have received an honorarium for speaking at the Brazilian Finance Society Meeting in 2017

- Ownership

- I am a co-founder of the financial advisory firm Cabinet Leduc & Associes. I receive no financial compensation for my services. I have a minority equity stake in the firm.

- Academic Journals:

- I serve as a referee for many academic journals, some of which pay a nominal fee for service as a referee
- I have received an honorarium for discussing and refereeing a registered proposal for the SFS Climate Change workshop in 2018

- Royalties:

- I receive royalties from Harvard Business Publishing (HBP) for sales of my case studies. Harvard Business School pays for the production of all cases. None of the organizations featured in the cases has paid anything for the production of the cases.

My research is and has been historically fully funded by the Division of Research at the Harvard Business School.
